Are you optimistic 'bout the way things are going?

No, I never ever think of it at all.

Don't you ever worry when you see what's going down?

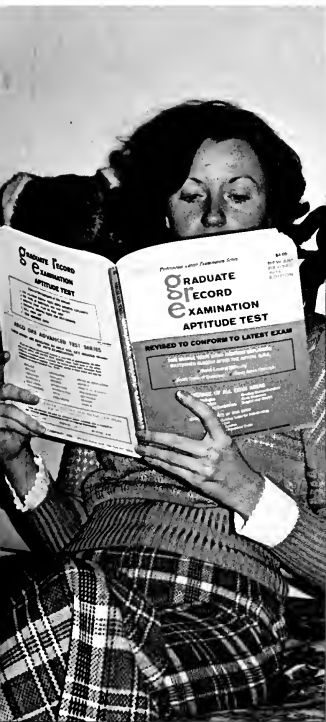

No, I try to mind my business, that is, no business at all.

When it's time to function as a feeling,
human being, will your Bachelor of Arts help you get by?

GIVE THE GIFT
OF A LIFETIME GIVE BLOOD

I hope to study further, a few more years or so. I also hope to keep a steady high.

Will you try to change things,
use the power that you have,
the power of a million new ideas?

What is this power you speak of and this need to change? I always thought that everything was fine.

Don't you feel repression
just closing in around?

Jo, the campus here is very, very free.

Does it make you angry the way war is dragging on?

Ford Urges Civilians Vows to Aid Jobless

Well, I hope, the President knows what he's into, I don't know.

Don't you ever see starvation in the city where you live, all the needless hunger, all the needness pain?

I haven't been there lately, the country is so fine, but my neighbors don't seem hungry 'cause they haven't got the time.

Thank you for the talk, you know you really eased my mind. I was troubled by the shapes of things to come.

Well, if you had my outlook your feelings would be numb, you'd always think

ADMINISTRATION AND FACULTY

Faculty Extracurricular Activities of Interest to All!

Did you know that Dr. Holt's pit cooked barbeque and homemade brunswick stew are good enough to lure his French classes forty miles to his yearly picnic at Holt's Pond?

Who would have guessed that the mounted and framed "doodles" in the Cate Center Snack Bar were the artwork of Meredith College President John Weems?

You haven't sampled Mrs. Brewer's cooking? Salads are her specialty! (Makes you wonder how the home economics department overlooked her!)

Yes, faculty and staff members, too, have their own extracurricular activities and hobbies, whether it be rearing a family or raising prize-winning roses. Dr. Preston's delightful talks about Hawaii, Mrs. Spooner's rendition of gospel songs, Mr. Taylor's sparkling ice carvings, and the many other talents of our faculty and staff add a very special touch to Meredith life.

Dr. John Edgar Weems, President.

Dr. Sandra C. Thomas, Vice President for Student Development.

Dr. C. Allen Burris, Vice President and Dean of the College.

"To Canterbury They Wende"

Betty Brewer, celebrated literary person, led another great pilgrimage to Canterbury England. Her tour seemed to open the doors to Chaucer's world as the group of "nyne and twenty" made forward erly for to ryse" . . . Her enthusiasm for the trip was shared by all the "sondry folk" who followed her and together they found the places of interest in ancient Canterbury. It is rumored that the sequel to Chaucer's Canterbury Tales will be taken from this experience of the summer of 1975.

The London fog down by the Thames was pierced by the aroma of fine English tobacco. Suddenly a figure appeared from the mist. A thin stream of smoke made its way up from the hand carved wooden pipe that emerged from a slit between the trench coat collar and hat. This was it. London film productions had found in Frank Grubbs the star for their Sherlock Holmes remake. However, this dedicated American history professor would not abandon his duties at a small women's college to pursue a film career. Not even the title of the film could tempt him: "The History of Mystery".

CLASSES

The Fire Drill

The alarm rang at 12:30 and on one end of campus girls stumbled out of bed for another fire drill. It was the first one of the year. Juniors and Seniors filed down the stairs and outdoors with their hands in the pockets of their robes, their hair in curlers, and their feet in slippers. There was talking and occasional laughter from the girls who were awake when the fire drill started, mostly yawning from those who were not. As they waited until time to go back in, the alarm continued to buzz loudly. Yep, that's Meredith alright. Just when you least expect it.

However, on the other side of campus the fire drill had been anticipated since the night the fire marshals were elected at the hall meetings. The Freshmen went to bed prepared. In fact, some of them didn't go to bed at all. The girls on Third Stringfield met in the hall at 12:15 wearing heavy make-up, hats, jewelry, knee socks, platform shoes, and little signs which read "3rd String." When the alarm sounded, the girls marched outside armed with dark glasses (to cut the glare from the flames) and stuffed animals. Yep, that's Meredith alright. Always expecting the unexpected!

SENIORS

Senior Class Officers: Cindy Lee, Secretary; Janie Gilbert, Vice President; Pam Watson, President; Doris Taylor, Treasurer.

One More Year, Seniors!

With sunny faces and excited spirits, the Senior Class returns to Meredith for one last year. Although each student is beginning to look beyond the college campus for self-fulfillment, job anticipations, off-campus activities, and fiances or boyfriends, they can never take the place of the unique senior-to-senior relationship established here at Meredith. Seniors have "stuck it out" together for four years; and they have learned to work together effectively and to play together effectively during those years. And this close spirit is reflected in the delight shown when Seniors see each other again for that one last year.

"Hey, Cathy, who's gonna win Cornhuskin' this year?"

"We are! We're the Senior Class."

Seniors Support Little Sisters

"So it's the Seniors ... We will remember ... Whenever we remember ... Our Meredith years." These meaningful words, put to the tune of the popular song "The Way We Were," inspired the serenade which the Sophomore sang to their big sister class on Cornhuskin' night, 1975. The strong ties which exist between the two classes, however, were demonstrated over and over throughout the year. Indeed, the Sophomores looked up to "their Seniors" with encouragement and support as they spent their final days at Meredith. Graduation morning brought the popular daisy chain, a tradition which embodied the Sophomores' final tribute to their big sisters. Perhaps the large red letters sprawled across the Sophomore breezeway say it best—"We love you, Big Sisters!"

Seniors—The Future

With graduation comes the apprehension of leaving the shelter of college life and making decisions concerning the future. Some seniors are ready to graduate, while some would like to stay at Meredith a little while longer. Some hope to stay in the Raleigh area because of friends or other reasons, while others wish to break old ties and form new ones in other places. As girls examine their option, several are considering graduate work before entering the career work.

One Senior spoke of an "underlying awareness of uncertainty," wondering what she will be doing a year from now, but added that her prevailing outlook is optimistic. Meredith builds a supportive, healthy attitude toward the goals of single young women graduating from college and entering a career. "I'm looking forward to the freedom," this senior said.

Bound For Stardom?

With the traditional strains of "Cigarets and Whiskey", Meredith's own "Bathtub Ring" made its stage debut at Cornhuskin '75. The group was composed of even-year Phis. Ethel Sue in her chic polka dot dress with tiered ruffles stood out among the other more masculine members of this renown group. Entertainment provided by the quartet surpassed all previous such performances in worth?!?!? As the audience shouted "Encore"—the Bathtub Ring moved on to bigger and better things—graduation.

Senior Cornhuskin' Spirit

The Senior Class rallied to show the true "Spirit of '76" for Cornhuskin' this year. Their dedication and enthusiasm equaled that of their forefathers in 1776, as they strived for a much-wanted goal. Not only was it the Great Pumpkin, but also the Senior Class pride which was at stake. Leading the ranks were Janet Tysinger, Mary Dowell Taylor, and Lou Ann Flynt—and as before, the "Spirit of '76" paid off with victory.

Seniors Get On-The-Job Training

During their senior year, many students experience a change from the routine schedule of attending classes: they put into practice what they have already learned. Students receiving a teacher's certificate participate in the student-teaching program. Those working toward social-welfare certification spend part of a semester doing field placement. As well as providing specific training, these job experiences also help students to know if their chosen field really fulfills their career expectation.

Juniors: Study In Contrast

In August, Juniors approach the Meredith campus with mixed feelings. For the returning student, the dull realization that this is just another dorm room and just another year of study is coated with a veneer of excitement. Seeing friends again, sharing summer experiences, laughing over memories will never grow old. Then again, for the transfer student, the excitement of a new beginning is covered with a feeling of uncertainty and nervousness. New school, new friends, new dreams are enough to cause anyone to be apprehensive. Class unity here is a matter of both hard work and luck, for more than any other class, Juniors are spread all over campus: dorm officers in Freshman dorms, a hall-full in Heilman, a few in Brewer, Faircloth, and Barefoot, and the major part of the class in Poteat. Yet, our Juniors have come to school, ready for another great year of laughing and crying, singing and talking, studying and playing, and just being typical Meredith students.

Cornhuskin' 76, Junior Class Song

Stop all your moppin' alone in the deck
 Come see the tricks we play
 Jokers are wild and so are we
 Here on "Cornhuskin Day!"

Days of hearts and diamonds
 Like the spades at play
 Clubs so sweet and gay
 As we shuffle aces, jacks, and queens, and kings
 The days of hearts & diamonds will ring!

You want the rummy, but we want the gin
 Ante your whole pot in
 When you play cards please deal us in Juniors are in to WIN!

Juniors Spark Spirit On Freshman Halls

As the Freshmen hall grapevine begins to twine, it quite naturally entangles those Juniors who by fame or fortune have somehow managed to abide their third year on the Western side of the court. Under their leadership the Freshmen acquire the Spirit of Meredith and become "the Hall." To witness the enthusiasm, newness and exhilaration of the Freshmen certainly enlivens the year of those juniors on the halls of Vann, String, and Carroll.

SOPHOMORES

President, Patti Ellis; Vice President, Betsy Lee; Secretary, Ruth Butler; Treasurer, Beth Cobb

The Sophomores Are Back!

Long lines of hungry, apprehensive freshmen mark the scenes of the "get-acquainted" picnic at Meredith College. Suddenly from across the green grass of the courtyard, a shriek pierces the polite chi-chat of the new girls.

"Ju-u-ulie!!"

"Deb-ra-ah!!"

Ah! the Sophomores are back! With their animated, "go-get-'em" spirit, the Sophomores are back. Hoping to continue those friendships begun last year, the Sophomores are back. Ready to take over campus jobs; to finish their English requirements; to declare their majors; to complete their P.E. courses, the Sophomores are back. Some will transfer next year, some will succumb to "Sophomore Slump," some will graduate early, but for the time being, enthusiasm reigns, and oh! the Sophomores are back!

Sophomore Slump gets a Boost

The year 1976 offered few opportunities for the sophomore class to slump. If deciding what to declare for a major didn't demand much thought, studying to pull up the old G.P.A. did. Steak night and bacon for breakfast offered some excitement, and midnight fire alarms were always a change of pace. Maybe a little slouching now and then, but slump? NEVER!

Sophomores' Theme Song

(to the tune of "SUPER-CALIFRAGILISTICEXPEALIDOCIOUS")

Shortages of toilet paper, gasoline and money—When we find ourselves in need it really isn't funny. This problem has been plaguing us we've seen down through the ages. It's getting so impossible, it really quite enrages ...

(to the tune of "DO RE MI")

... Me and You and Exxon too. Shortages are everywhere. The alphabet is short, it seems—A's are really getting rare. Time is also on our list. Men at Meredith are missed. When will some of us get kissed? Oh, it's really getting rough.

(to the tune of "DOMINIQUE")

There are shortages of this and that; we see them every day. It seems they're here to stay. Due to lack of parking space For your car there is no place. So we'll have to wait 'til May.

(to the tune of "A SPOONFUL OF SUGAR")

When we go to wash our clothes, we have no quarters of dimes. It happens all the time ... happens all the time. We have shortages of letters; we have shortages of sleep; We're even running short of rhymes.

(to the tune of "SUPER-CALIFRAGILISTICEXPIALIDOCIOUS")

Shortages of toilet paper, gasoline and money—When we find ourselves in need it really isn't funny. Now we have a need to find an ending for our theme song: But we can't so we'll stop short ...

Theatre Review

Opening with the frame words of a radiocaster declaring the Sophomore Class "mysteriously missing," this year's Sophomore stunt portrayed the epitomy of spring at Meredith. Girls in bikinis discussing topics anywhere from school work to Old Maids to the latest soap opera kept students amused as they saw themselves reflected in the cast members' antics. The biggest laugh was undoubtedly brought by the clever surprise ending. Looks of humor swept over the stilled faces of the sunbathers' as the silence was broken by the popular themesong to the movie "Jaws." With a brief closing report, the radiocaster clarifies the answer to the question raised by the skit's title. Writer-producers Kathy Morgan and Susan Fishel are to be commended for their work on this dramatic masterpiece.

Cornhuskin' Spirit Strong

Night falls on the Meredith campus. All is quiet; study dominates the evening for most of the students. Suddenly—a yell across the courtyard and girls are storming down the halls only to congregate on the breezeways or at the fountain. How do we explain this sudden disturbance of the peace? Freshman Spirit and Cornhuskin'. It takes only minor urging from various hall proctors and classmates to get things underway. Soon cheers ring out as more and more get into the spirit of things. The fountain's on and the Freshman are ready to fight. A rowdy march down Sophomore halls proves sufficient in stirring up some opposition, and soon the courtyard is full of wet, laughing girls. Thank goodness for the Freshman and their lively spirit which serves to grant us all an entertaining break from the routine of everyday college life.

Astrotekton Society Wins Rush

Yellow and white, the colors of the Astros, dominated the campus on Wednesday of Freshman Rush Week. Yellow stars, yellow eggs, yellow goats of construction paper, yellow T-shirts, and yellow crepe paper helped to influence 210 Freshmen to pledge the Astro Society, according to Cris Pritchard, Astro President.

The Philarettian Society, led by President Nancy Elliot, accepted 105 pledges on Decision Day—105 girls influenced by blue-dyed eggs in the cafeteria, blue crepe paper, and a love for Milton the Bear.

Freshmen Orientation:

A Time To Adjust

Freshmen Orientation and Registration meant many things to many people. It was a hectic time with everyone trying to adjust to new faces and a new home. Orientation was a time of learning—about ourselves, about others on our halls and especially about the Meredith College handbook. Registration was a time of panic—praying that the special class you wanted wouldn't be closed out and feeling blessed relief when you found out the class was still open. Most of all, Freshmen orientation and registration meant a step out into the world of becoming an adult.

IN MEMORIAM
MARTHA NELL TUCKER

ORGANIZATIONS

Clubs Encourage Spirit of Self-Fulfillment

Habla español? or Parlez-vous Francais? Or does good old English hold more appeal for you? Perhaps it's politics, religion, or entertainment that season those long dreary weeks of class. Whatever your interest, all in all, it's people working with people and for people that make any Meredith organization successful.

Needless to say, the success of an organization is dependent upon the satisfaction it gives it's members. Thus the purpose of Meredith organizations is to give the student opportunity to exercise and develop her interests beyond the classroom experience.

SGA Has Successful Year

SGA began its 1975-76 work by sponsoring an International Bazaar. Goods representing world crafts were available to eager purchasers. Also reflecting an international interest was the United Nations speaker, Weldon Gaddy.

SGA also concerned itself with Meredith's social regulations. Early in the Fall semester sophomores were granted SDH. Further sign-out legislation involved omitting the sign-out system altogether except overnights.

Academically, SGA again advocated faculty evaluations. This 2-year old procedure is one initiated by the organization.

Judicial Board and the Executive Committee held an Honor Code survey. Furthermore, SGA voted to have all social offenses be under the jurisdiction of Interdorm Board while academic infractions be the concern of Judi Board.

1975-76 also saw SGA take an active part in advocating health care among the Student Body. Armed with funds from the Raising the Sights of Women program, the Association held a Health Care Symposium in March. Booklets were distributed and a Pep Smear clinic was held.

ACORN

Libby Phillips Giese, Art Editor; Rosemary Stankwyтч, Editor.

Meredith's literary magazine is entitled The Acorn. It's contributions for the 1975-76 year have been co-ordinated by editor Rosemary Stankwyтч and other dedicated members of the staff. It is published twice yearly—once in the fall semester and once in the spring. The Acorn attempts to integrate the various creative resources of the Meredith community, and students, faculty, and staff are urged to use The Acorn as a forum to share their creative ability with the rest of the campus. Entries in the magazine include poetry, short fiction, serious essays, humor, and cartoons. More art work has been added this year than ever before through the cooperation of the Art Department. Through the years, The Acorn has continued to grow and adapt to the needs and interests of the Meredith community.

OAK LEAVES

Sarah Ruth Cralle, Assistant Editor; Linda Green, Editor; Cathy Roberts, Business Manager.

What does it really take to put together a yearbook? Perhaps few of those eagerly awaiting the finished product can really answer this question. But to those who work diligently to produce that finished product, the response is an involved one! Indeed, so much goes behind the scenes that most people fail to realize. Take, for example, the photography. There is the setting up of a time schedule and posting it in enough places to remove any possible "I didn't see the notice" excuses from students . . . leading the photographer around . . . arranging the group creatively while still getting everyone's good side to the camera . . . getting everyone to smile at once . . . and finally insuring that the pictures are developed. Yet photography is but one small aspect of the yearbook! Still, there is copy, lay-out, financing, editing, and on and on . . . Indeed all staff members devote tireless hours to the publishing of the Oak Leaves.

MCA

This school year has been a busy one for the Meredith Christian Association. There were several on-campus activities such as the Fall Forum which featured Lisa Sergio speaking on the topic "Your Time is Now" to coincide with the theme of "Women and Religion." Spring Forum consisted of a panel discussion concerning "Perspectives on Death." "Unfolding" was the theme for Religious Emphasis Week, January 26-30, featuring a week of activities geared toward spiritual growth.

There were also many activities which expanded beyond the campus itself. The MCA successfully sponsored "Toys for Tots" at Christmas in which gifts were collected for underprivileged children. Tutoring at the Methodist Home and Catholic Home, Recreational Activities at the Governor Morehead School for The Blind, the Interaction program at Dorthea Dix, and the Project HOPE working with the Women's Correctional Center were continued as the usual MCA projects. On a broader scale, the MCA sponsored a Hunger Fast and Guatemalan Relief to raise money to contribute to world-wide hunger relief efforts.

MRA

"MRA Makes Revolutionary Activities"

The Fourth of July came early this year as MRA activists encouraged several riotous events on the Meredith campus. Cornhuskin' festivities aroused the entire student body into frenzied action. Play Day and Intramurals were scenes of wholehearted enthusiasm and physical activity. Stunt was a wild gathering and voices could be heard across campus. The Meredith Recreation Association provided the opportunity for fun, competition, and participation. The real July Fourth may look dim in comparison.

SPORTS

Sports Life Reported Good at Meredith

How does Meredith College spell sports?

S-P-O-R-T-S, except for the dummies.

Even though Meredith doesn't get a bid to the bowl games, the athletically minded Meredith student has ample opportunity to participate in almost any sport, that is, except football. (However, touch football is occasionally played in the courtyard.) Athletic teams at Meredith are many and varied, from basketball and tennis to volleyball and swimming.

Of course, the weeknight tennis player, two-mile jogger, and daily cyclist are not to be forgotten, either. Today, physical fitness is rapidly coming to be of interest to all. The Meredith campus provides excellent facilities for all sporting endeavors.

STUDENT LIFE

Student Life Now and Then

"Appearances have truly changed, but underneath, there is no change." This was Dr. Mary Lynch Johnson's reply when she was asked her opinion of young women today. And so, student life at Meredith today, though somewhat different from that of fifty years ago, is essentially the same. Russian tea and the age-old game of bridge have given way to coffee, cigarettes, and a fastmoving game of spades. Sunday afternoon strollers are replaced by enthusiastic joggers. The term "panty raid" melts into the past as a new generation graduates without having experienced a "raid."

Yet still now, as then, friends cry on each other's shoulders, snowmen mysteriously appear from a mere inch of snow, and the holiday spirit flows as Christmas break draws near. Love, laughter, and friendship are an everlasting part of Meredith.

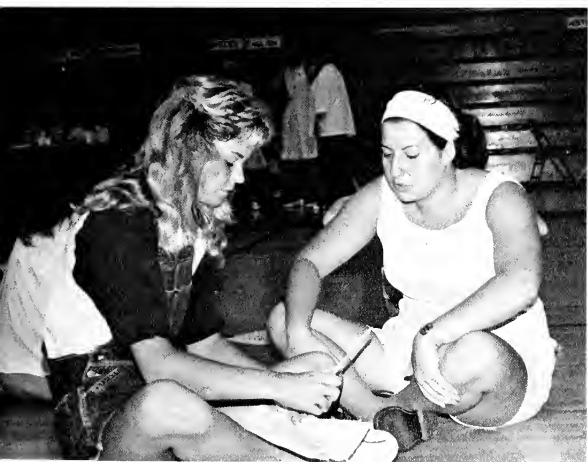

ORIENTATION

CORNHUSKIN'

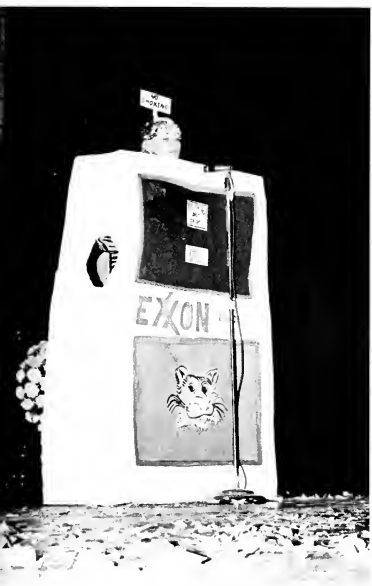

Spirit of '76

The Spirit of '76 was in the air as the Senior Class won Cornhuskin' for this year. Seniors placed first in Participation, Cornhuskin', Hogcalling, Tall Tale, and song, while the Juniors won Parade and Apple Bobbing.

Cornhuskin' chairmen for the Seniors were Janet Tysinger, Mary Dowell Taylor, and Lou Ann Flynt. The graduating class of 1976 followed a bi-centennial theme while the Sophomores complained of shortages. Juniors focused their theme on playing cards while their little sister class, the Freshmen, explored the world of cartoon characters. Faculty members portrayed storybook characters from Little Boy Blue to Little Red Riding Hood. The faculty Tall Tale was presented in shorts and suspenders by Dr. Huber of the Psychology Department. Traditional festivities followed with apples for refreshments, a concert by the Bath Tub Ring, and Stuart singing "How Great Thou Art."

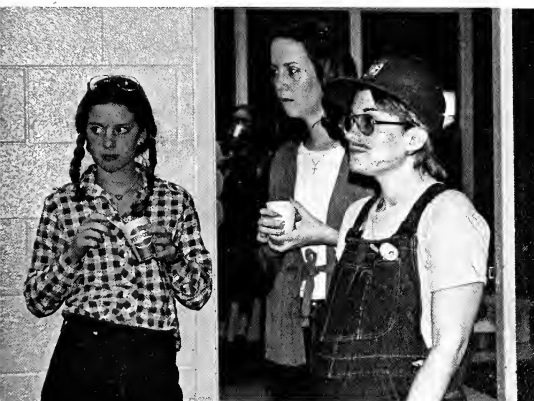

Meredith College Says "Yes"
to No No Nanette

"Lights", "music", "action" and No No Nanette turned on Jones Auditorium to one of the most vivacious productions that Meredith's "little Broadway" has ever produced. Talent busted the seams of this quaint period musical as the dancers tapped their way to glory and the musical hits sounded their way to the stars. It is reported that "Tea for Two" is still being hummed in the stair wells, and if one closely watches the feet in the cafeteria line, a little soft shoe steppin' more than often breaks the montony.

Volunteer Programs Serve Raleigh

As a Christian institution in an influential city, Meredith College has a responsibility to serve her Community through various service projects. The Meredith Christian Association sponsors five such projects which are typical of the many efforts of the entire college. At both the Governor Morehead School and Dorothea Dix Hospital, students share time with the patients in such recreational activities as parties and dances. Project HOPE (Help Overcome Prison Environment) has expanded this year as students from both Meredith and State combined efforts, sponsoring enjoyable programs for those in the Women's Correctional Center. At both the Catholic and the Methodist Homes, students work on a one-to-one basis with the children in a tutorial capacity. These relationships soon develop into real friendships as the children begin to look to our girls as big sisters. Certainly such programs provide a valuable ministry to our city.

STUNT

Recession and Inflation Unstoppable

Stunt '76 was a comeback for an old tradition. The Freshmen began the activities with a takeoff on "Shampoo," Sparked with wit and the usual almost professional acting abilities of Meredith students, "Shampoo" seemed unbeatable. The Juniors followed with "Christopher Colombo", a takeoff on the discovery of America. "O-e-o," the chant of the sailors and Kate Smith singing "Hello Colombo" merited for the Juniors second place. The Seniors presented a thoughtful skit on life in a bean factory. "Recession" and "Inflation", noted for their singing abilities, were finally defeated by the hero, "Recovery." The Sophomores followed with a skit concerning Sophomores missing from class due to their attachment to the sun-decks, better known as breezeways, on warm Spring days. A take off on "Jaws" finally sent these delinquents back to class.

All the stunts having been completed, the judges were faced with a tough decision. They came to a consensus: Seniors first and Juniors second. Stunt '76 was indeed a success.

Alice in Wonderland

Abundant Absurdity Appears in Alice

The audience stops its chatter. The lights dim, and finally the curtain parts. Here begins the newest production yet of the classic, Alice in Wonderland. The Meredith faculty and administration brings to life once more the adventures of sweet Alice in her land of wonder. And wonder you do after seeing this performance. The most professional professors take advantage of this opportunity to fulfill their ambitions of song, dance, drama and comedy. What a refreshing change of pace! It is a mind-boggling experience for actor and audience alike as the characters travel through a never-never-land that one could never, never purely understand.

The Prime of Miss Jean Brodie

Meredith is rapidly establishing a name for herself in the field of drama. Indeed the excellence of this year's spring play, The Prime of Miss Jean Brodie has been widely acclaimed by faculty and students alike.

During the weeks before the performance, cast members, crew members, and directors were found faithfully gathered in Jones Auditorium for nightly rehearsals lasting approximately five hours each. Their work finally paid off in a successful three night run which drew spectators from all over Raleigh.

Cathy Bland was sensational in her role as Miss Brodie. The director, Nancy Truesdale, and her student counterpart, Andra Knott, also contributed countless hours of patience and hard work. Surely, the remark of a Meredith professor—we can learn alot about education from this play—is a true one.

PLAY DAY

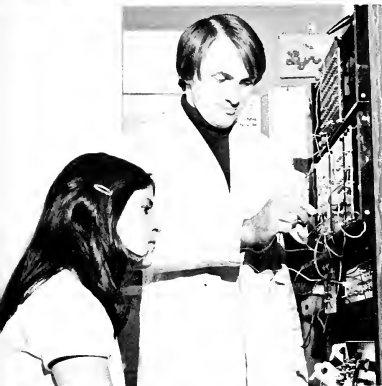

Parents' Weekend Held In April

Dr. Norma Rose, professor and chairman of the English department, and Dr. Lyn G. Aubrecht, assistant professor of psychology, were named Outstanding Christian Teachers at Meredith during the Parents' Weekend observance held on the campus in early April. Exhibitions in equitation, gymnastics, synchronized swimming and dance were other highlights of the weekend. In addition, the Martin Equitation Arena was dedicated.

CLASS DAY

Graduation: A Bittersweet Time

The Senior class of Meredith College held their graduation exercises in Dorton Arena on Sunday, May 16, 1976. The occasion was marked by a collection of mixed feelings.

Graduating from college is a traumatic experience. It means adopting an entirely new lifestyle. We must leave the place which has been our home for four years. We must also leave friends we love, knowing that even though we may keep in touch, the relationship will never again be the same. For many there is the anxiety of "Where do I go from here?"

Along with the feelings of sadness and anxiety, however, are feelings of pride and a sense of accomplishment. At long last we have reached our goal. There is also a new feeling of freedom and independence. Now we are really on our own, equipped with the Spirit of '76 to show the world what we can do!

The following text is extremely faint and largely illegible. It appears to be a list or a series of entries, possibly related to a historical document or a collection of records. The text is arranged in several columns and rows, but the individual words and phrases are difficult to discern due to the low contrast and resolution of the scan.
